

Why do we exist?

A word from our founder on the eve of our public launch

The internet should be a more connecting place. The inherent 2D interface of the web has limited us to use hyperlinks, clicking, and at best watching images, videos, and listening to audio...

We have grown using the internet and technology so much more. But we are always alone.

This flat and single user experience behind our screens has made us evolve to a more connected, but more lonely society. All of us as users are constantly <alone> using the devices, reading articles, people watching on social media, or listening to music, watching movies... Even in most social experiences, communication is always omnidirectional. One person is talking at a time, emitting alone behind their screen or computer, to an audience or a single receiver.

In the real world, our conferences, our offices, our classrooms, our cities, and our neighborhoods do not operate that way. They are 3D and fully interactive.

The OZONE UNIVERSE platform was built to enable humanity to come together IN the web, breaking away from decades of 2D flat human web interface. The most powerful XR cloud in the web ushers a new era for humanity to <COME TOGETHER> and shape the future of interactivity, collaboration, and human interaction.

We empower humanity to come together in presence and Flow.
